I think the government should stay out of the technical development area. Technology does not need to be restrained in order for the States to maintain leadership in this arena. I think Microsoft got a bad rap. There is no other company at the present time that can develop the technology and get it to market like Microsoft. This is not to say that other software companies can't if they would just focus on development and forget the competition. All involved have spent too much on the legal proceedings that should never have been initiated.
